THE Northwest Gazette of October 16th contains a proclamation by Lieutenant-governor Royal giving effect to ordinance No. 29 of 1893 to further amend the liquor license ordinance so that it shall not apply to that part of Northern Alberta north of a line drawn as follows: Commencing at the point of intersection of the western boundary of Alberta by the line between townships numbered 57 and 58, thence east to the western boundary of range 26 west of the Fourth Meridian, thence north along the western boundary of the said range 26 to the line between townships numbered 64 and 65 and thence east along the said line to the eastern boundary of Alberta. The effect is to place the part of Alberta north of the line mentioned under the prohibitory law so as to facilitate the efforts of the mounted police in keeping liquor out of the Mackenzie region. The portion of country allowed to include the northern shipping points of Lac la Nonne, Athabasca Landing and Lac la Biche. The ordinance was passed at the suggestion of His Honor made in his speech at the opening of the session.

A LETTER of over a column appears in a recent issue of the Manitoba Free Press giving information regarding the Edmonton district and signed L. Kirkpatrick. The letter is one of the most concisely comprehensive and accurate statements regarding this district that has yet appeared.

THE Western World for October is an exceptionally good number. It contains as a supplement a beautifully colored immigration map of the Dominion upon which is printed a great deal of valuable information for European settlers. The letter containing the map and information is issued by the department of interior. Besides a great deal of most excellent matter beautifully illustrated the number contains a many letters from delegates from the United States giving their opinions regarding different sections of the Northwest. Needless to say the Edmonton district comes in for a good share of the notices.

THE steam fire engine purchased by the town from the Brussels fire engine works arrived on Thursday's train. It is known as the improved Ronald engine, weighs 6,500 pounds and is guaranteed to throw 70,000 gallons of water per minute through 500 feet of hose on the level or to force a fire stream from the river through hose to the level of the town and then over the highest building in town. Four streams may be thrown at once. One thousand feet of cotton and one thousand feet of rubber hose accompanies the engine with two hose reels. The suction hose will raise water 22 feet. A heater accompanies the engine, the object of which is to keep the engine warm and ready for action in the coldest weather without actually keeping up fires in it. It is promised that the engine can get up steam and begin throwing water within seven minutes from the sounding of the alarm. The agreement with the Ronald company requires that an expert shall accompany the engine and test it to the satisfaction of the council before the sale is complete. The expert did not arrive on Thursday and the engine remains at the station awaiting his arrival.

THE MINISTERS' VISIT.

A telegram was received this morning by Mayor McCauley from Senator Lougheed of Calgary, announcing that Hon. G. E. Foster, minister of finance and Hon. A. R. Angers, minister of agriculture, would visit Edmonton by the train arriving to night or rather to-morrow morning. Mr. McCauley at once telegraphed to know if the party intended remaining over until Friday and was informed in reply that their arrangements were to return to Calgary on Tuesday's train. In view of the fact that the ministers are travelling by private car they will probably have gone to bed before reaching Edmonton, he then telegraphed asking an interview on behalf of the town council for to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock. It is a pity that the party could not have remained over until Friday or that longer notice of their visit was not given, as their short stay and the still shorter notice absolutely prevents the bringing before them of many matters concerning the welfare of the district with which they should be made acquainted, and as well prevents them from acquiring by personal observation a knowledge of the vast and varied resources and advantages of this important part of Canada. It is some consolation, however, that they will know from personal experience just the sort of the service rendered by the C. & E. railway for the $80,000 a year bonus which it receives.

PINE RIVER PASS.

H. B. Round returned on Monday's train from a trip through the Rocky mountains by the Pine river pass. Mr. Round left Edmonton on June 14th with Messrs. H. Somers-Somerset, Arthur H. Pollen and Dr. Dudley, the two former having planned an excursion in search of sport and adventure to Peace river and the Rockies. They accomplished the journey without serious mishap but owing to the distance traversed they had very little time to spend in hunting. Their route was by road to Athabasca Landing; by boat up Lesser Slave river and Lesser Slave lake to the head of the latter; by cart road from Slave lake to Peace river at the mouth of the Smoky, thence on the north side of the Peace to Dunvegan, thence by pack horses on the south side of the Peace to the mouth of Pine river which empties in from the south; thence up Pine river by an altogether unfrequented route to the head of the river at the summit of the Pine river pass through the Rockies; thence down the Misnedinka, a small river which heads in the same pass to the Parsnip river, the southerly fork of Peace river; thence up the Parsnip to McLeod's river which comes into the Parsnip from the west; thence up McLeod's river to McLeod's lake, and thence 100 miles across country to Stewart lake. The pack horses were sent back from Stewart's lake and canoe taken down Stewart's river and Nechacho river to the Fraser river at Fort George; thence down the Fraser to Quesnel, thence to Ashcroft on the C. P. R. 230 miles by the Cariboo wagon road, from Ashcroft to Edmonton by rail. A heavy frost was experienced on Slave river about the end of June, but it was not noticed to have occurred at Slave lake. H. B. Post where there are some small fields under cultivation. At Shaftsbury mission on Peace river the crops were good and well advanced. At Dunvegan they were also good and well advanced. Timothy was being cut on July 17th and was an excellent crop. There had been no frost there. From leaving Peace river until reaching Parsnip river there was no trail and the travellers were compelled to walk nearly all the way. The country is chiefly wooded, but a great deal of the valuable timber has been burned. The Pine river pass is of easy ascent and about a mile wide at its narrowest part. It was at one time considered as an alternative route for the C. P. R. There are no high mountain peaks in its vicinity. The trip from Edmonton to Ashcroft is about 1,500 miles. Although it was long and tedious Mr. Round preferred an average day on the trail to a day on the train. The trip from Calgary to Edmonton by rail would only bear comparison with that part of the route travelled which is covered by the cart road from Lesser Slave lake to Peace river, one of the worst pieces of road in the Northwest.

As the delegation season is nearly over it is a little late in the day to argue at length regarding the duties of the town council or of the mayor towards parties of delegates. As all or nearly all of these parties are expected to come to the Northwest at the solicitation of agents of the government, the government and its agents alone are responsible for their being shown the country in its different parts to the best advantage and for their entertainment while here. At the same time the town of Edmonton through its council, the citizens individually, and the members of the council, particularly the mayor, have not stinted either time or money to assist in giving these parties the best possible impression regarding this section of country. Owing to the fact that the name and fame of Edmonton has been spread abroad so widely and so favorably, almost every party of delegates who visited any part of the Northwest made it a point to visit Edmonton. The time and money expended has been very considerable and a good cause was not grudged because it was in a good cause. The assistance so rendered has been freely acknowledged in nearly all cases by the delegates. In the case of the latest delegation visiting this district the gentleman conducting the party mapped out his own course, as he had a perfect right to do. He did not ask assistance or advice from the town or from citizens of the town, which was perfectly right also, and it is not going too far to say that he gave it to be tacitly understood that such assistance or advice was not wanted by himself or his party. So much so that on the morning after the arrival of the party, when arrangements were being made for their entertainment, the messenger was informed that their arrangements had already been made. In fact the council was unanimously of opinion, according to the tenor of its resolution of the 11th instant, that the town was being slighted by or on behalf of this party, for which supposed slight the gentleman conducting it assumed full responsibility. Under these circumstances it was hardly to be expected that the mayor would leave church in order to officially welcome the delegates when they did finally come to town. It would scarcely have comported with the dignity due his position or due the town itself if he had done so. The circumstances being such that the town council could not in justice to itself assist or entertain the visitors officially—even had they been under any obligation either actual or constructive to do so—a number of citizens thought it well, in order to remove the friction that had arisen—it is fair to suppose, through misunderstanding—to tender the delegates certain hospitalities. The hospitality was accepted, and no doubt a good deal of the misunderstanding was removed. The council of the town did right to speak up for the interests of the town when they thought those interests were not being considered. The citizens who tendered the dinner to the delegates did right, because it was well to remove all friction that could be removed. And there is no good object to be gained by one party now finding fault with the other for each one doing its best in the common interest, for it is by each citizen playing his proper part that the prosperity of every citizen is increased and assured.

Calgary Herald: In township 20, range 3, west of the fifth initial meridian there has been for some time a natural gas well on fire. Efforts have on several occasions been made to put out the flames by covering them up with dirt, but so far without avail as the gas comes out too strong. The gas arises from an old dried up spring at this place, but in township 15, range 2, west of the fifth meridian there is another flow of gas which comes out of the ground with water. The gas at this point is also burning, though the water has a tendency to put out the flames. Here the gas has a strong odor of petroleum, and the flames cover a considerable area.

Calgary Herald: Mr. C. O. Swanson, who has been working up immigration among his Swedish compatriots living in the New England States came in on Sunday with another party of about twenty prospectors who all went north yesterday morning. The party are all young men, some of them with considerable capital, who will locate, if they are suited. In addition to their own homesteads they have authority to make entry for some sixty others. Mr. Swanson is doing some excellent immigration work.

Beware, says the Fur Trade Review, of concerns sending out price lists in which they offer extremely high prices—figures which are manifestly out of all reason; parties who do not intend to pay anything, or only as much as they may be compelled to under judgment, can offer seventy dollars for bear, as readily as they would quote thirty dollars; three dollars for skunk, as easily as one dollar; forty cents for rats, as easily as twenty cents; and so on. Such quotations are meant to beguile—a word in season.

Calgary Herald: The voting for the by-law approving the charter for the city of Calgary yesterday resulted in 326 votes being cast in its favor and only 9 against. The voting was about even at both polling places and was steady during all day. The members of the council and the friends of the charter did a vast amount of canvassing with the result that the vote was the largest ever polled in Calgary.

Qu'Appelle Vidette: Two members of the Dominion Government—Hon. Messrs Foster and Angers—are in Manitoba, and propose visiting the Territories also, for the purpose of ascertaining the feeling in regard to the matter of tariff changes. This is very well, and shows that the government are anxious to legislate in accordance with the wishes of the people in this particular connection. But there is a tariff reform—not that tariff that comes under the immediate purview of the Minister of Finance—that is needed in these Territories which is of far more importance to the farming and commercial interests of the country than the question of customs charges. We refer to the question of railway tariffs and railway accommodation. These are the reforms we need in the Territories, and we consider them of far more importance to the people who have made their homes here than the matter of reducing the duties on agricultural implements by five, ten, or even twenty per cent. It is the exorbitant charges for carrying a bushel to market and bringing a hundred weight of merchandise from the wholesaler to the retailer that kills the farmer—and every other settler in the Territories—and the sooner that parliament looks to the interest of the people rather than those of the railway magnates the better it will be for country.
